

Steve Hill

GIIGNL Vice President for Americas

Executive Vice President, Shell Energy

Steve is responsible for Shell Energy, which is the energy marketing and trading organization for Shell's Integrated Gas, Renewables & Energy Solutions directorate. Shell Energy markets and trades LNG, natural gas, power and emissions products, and manages market development and gas advocacy efforts to drive increased demand for LNG and gas. It manages 6 million barrels per day oil equivalent of gas, power and LNG movements.

Prior to the Shell acquisition of BG Group, Steve was a member of BG Group's Executive Committee with responsibility for BG's energy marketing and trading activities, and BG's shipping business. Steve was involved in building and optimizing BG's LNG business since joining the company in 2002 in roles in the UK, USA and Singapore.

Prior to joining BG Group, Steve worked for Mobil and subsequently ExxonMobil, in business development and trading roles in the UK, USA, Singapore, and Qatar.

Steve graduated from Durham University in the UK with a degree in Engineering and Management.
